Election

STATE FAVORS BILLS; MILAM DEFEATS 1, 5, 6

In a light turnout of voters for the special constitutional amendment election Saturday Milam County favored proposed amendments 2, 3 and 4 and defeated amendments 6, 5 and 1. All six proposals carried in final state wide tabulation.

729 VOTERS

Only 729 Milam County voters cast ballots in the special election. General lack of interest in the constitutional amendments and opening of deer season were blamed for the small vote.

Voting was light across the state with an estimated 500,000 of the state's three million eligible voters going to the polls. Across the state Saturday's voting elected Republican O. H. Harris to the state senate and determined run-offs between Republican and Democratic candidates for all six vacancies in the Texas House.

MILAM VOTE

Local voting on the proposed constitutional amendments was:

1. Consolidating county funds: For 306, against 395.
2. Permission for mental health services: For 397, against 3.6.
3. Veterans land bonds: For 469, against 260.
4. Medical and pay aid for injured law enforcement oficials: For 432, against 294.
5. Bonds for improved state parks: For 310, against 403.
6. Allow state employes to serve on certain boards: For 322, against 385.

STATE VOTE

Statewide totals, almost complete, were:

1. For 135,2252; against 133,996
2. For 166,865; against 161,933
3. For 159,277; against 113,777
4. For 177,644; against 93,584
5. For 147,907; against 121,479
6. For 137,138; against 129,163

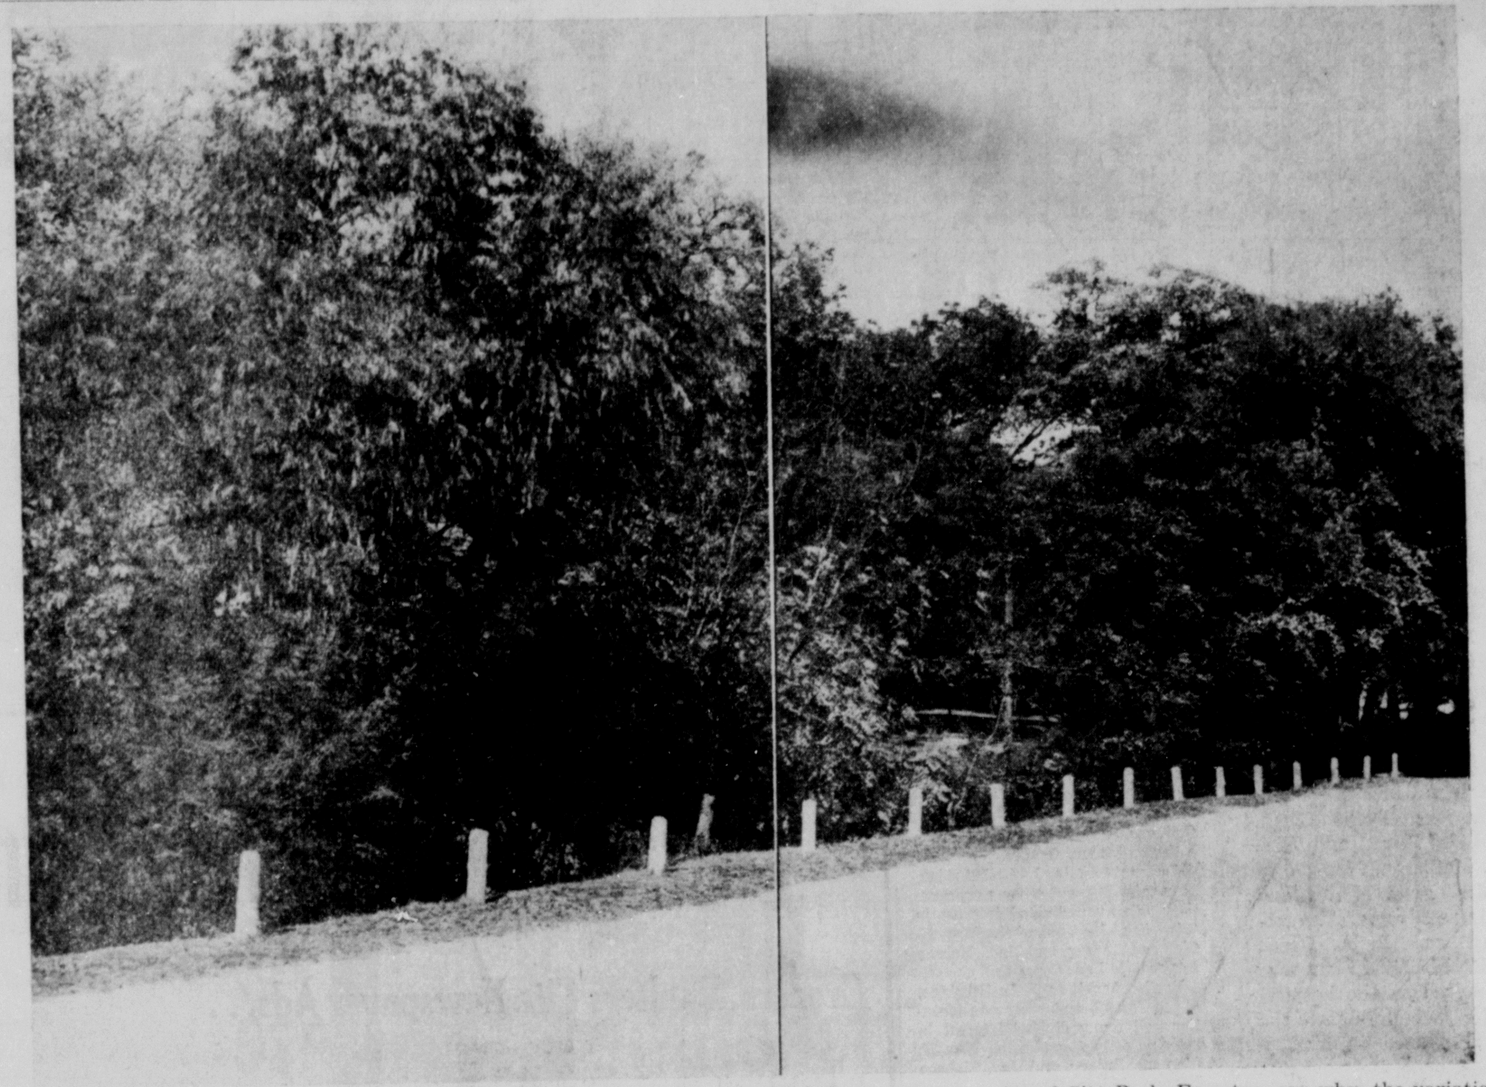
CHRISTMAS PARADE

Cameron's annual parade will be at 3 p.m. December 2. Clubs churches, schools and organizations are invited to enter the float contest.



FALL FOLIAGE — Imagine your choice of leaf colors superimposed over the tree scene here. It takes a lot more than usual this November in Central Texas. Leaf colorings, for various reason, are brighter in trees like these on the east side of City Park. Foresters say why the variations in leaf pigments, but lookers need only see . . . the red, yellow and orange which brighten the lanes and highways.

With F.M.L.

It is interesting how "little" The Herald gets as the issues it covers concerning Cameron and Milam County enlarge. Our thanks to our "constant readers."

108-108-108

It is obvious that a city sales tax election will be held in the near future. It is equally obvious that Cameron needs the revenue. What city, if it continues to grow, does not?

No one likes taxes. There are never few enough of them. If you want to get Biblical, a lot of problems revolved around the tax collector. Rome hired natives of their colonies to do the work.

Rome may have changed, but taxes haven't. We all begrudge them, but we begrudge the chuck hole in the street more. We all protest their increase, if it be necessary, but we protest a lacking of public services more.

We want their reduction, but we want what most other towns have more. We think perhaps we can escape them in the opportunity of a big city, but we find we must, once there, pay more.

There is little rapture in taxes of any kind -- sales, excise, property, income or those "hidden" to general view. There is little need to rhapsodize their necessity.

Accursed as necessary, taxes go up until something in a system goes "poof!" It takes no grand predilection to forecast a city sales tax election sometime soon in Cameron. There is little likelihood of "poof" on this issue.

Pecan Growers, Cooks Prepare Show Entries

County pecan growers and Milam homemakers and future homemakers will combine talents to stage the annual Milam County Pecan and Food Show in Cameron Saturday, November 18.

Entries will be judged and displayed at the Dusek building on W. 1st Street (former ASCS office) during the day. Home Demonstration club members will have coffee and cakes on sale beginning at 7:30 a.m.

Although pecan entries are usually one quart of pecans in each class, due to a short crop this fall exhibitors may enter as few as 20 or 30 pecans.

In the food division, cakes, pies, candy, cookies, quick breads, and yeast breads, will be judged in the morning and will be ready for sale to the public by 11:30 a.m. Gift items will also be sold by the Home Demonstration club women at booths set up by each club in the county.

J. D. Moore, county agent, said all pecan entries should be entered in plastic bags with name of grower and variety attached. Entries should be at the show by 9 a.m Saturday and remain in place until 4 p.m. Moore recommended that all entries be brought to his office before Friday, November 17, to facilitate entering on official tabulation sheets.

He emphasized that all pecans exhibited must be from the 1967 crop. Blue ribbon entries may be entered in the Regional Show.

Presbyterians To Install Minister

Rev. Wirt Skinner, newly named pastor for the First Presbyterian Church, Cameron, will be installed in special services at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, November 19.

A commission for installation appointed by the Central Texas Presbytery will include Felix W. Keys Jr. of Marlin, Charles H. Taylor of Killeen, Walter B. Funk of Rockdale, Larry Selden, Rockdale, Roy Newton, Maysfield and Drayton McLane, Cameron.

Rev. Skinner is a graduate of Presbyterian College in South Carolina and Union Theological Seminary in Virginia. He and his wife, a graduate of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, spent the past year in Port Glasgow, Scotland.

Rev. Skinner will also serve as supply pastor for the Maysfield Presbyterian Church.

Town Meeting Questions . . .

Here's List Of Tax Answers

Edieor's note: These are the questions and answers discussed by a panel at Tuesday's town meeting. They were furnished by Texas League of Municipalities.

1. Q. What items are subject to the 1 percent municipal sales tax?

A. The 1 percent city sales tax is applicable only to those sales now taxed under the State Sales and Use Tax Act.

2. Q. There is a 2 percent State tax on automobiles. Would the city sales tax also apply to automobile sales?

A. No. The 2 percent State tax on automobiles is an excise tax: the municipal sales tax would not apply to automobile sales.

3. Q. Does the city sales tax apply to sales at wholesale?

A. No, only to retail sales. Goods sold for resale are not taxable.

4. Q. Are city sales tax payments deductible on our Federal income tax reports?

A. Yes.

5. Q. Does the municipal sales tax apply to purchases by units of government (county, state, other cities, etc.)?

A. No, all are exempt.

6. Q. Does a person residing outside of the city limits pay the 1 percent municipal sales tax?

A. Yes, when he makes a purchase of personal property subject to the tax in city which has adopted the local sales tax. In return, he enjoys the city's street facilities, police protection and other advantages of the city for which city residents pay the major share.

7. Q. Assuming that City "A" has the sales tax and City "B" does not, and a sale is made in "A" but delivery is to be made in "B" does "A" collect the tax?

A. Yes. The sales tax is levied at the point of sale.

8. Q. If merchandise is ordered from a mail-order business in City "A", which has the local sales tax, for delivery in City "B", which also has the tax, which city is eligible to collect on the sale?

A. City "A" collects, since it is the point of sale, rather than delivery.

9. Q. What are some of the items which are exempt from the 1 percent city sales tax?

A. Among many other exempt items are included cigarettes, cigars, autobobiles, water, telephone and telegraph, meals served by hospitals to patients, meals sold by a church, food products which are not prepared for eating, prescription medicines and prescription eye glasses, cement, alcoholic beverages (unless included on meals), gasoline, farm machinery and products which will be used in the manufacture of another product which is not subject to this tax.

A complete list of exempt items is available from the State Comptroller, Austin.

10. Q. Who can vote on the 1 percent local sales tax?

A. Any registered voter in the city. A simple majority is required to put the sales tax into effect.

11. Q. Why should the local businessman favor the city sales tax?

A. Poor city services mean poor business, while well-financed and efficient municipal services attract new people to live and trade in the city. More people mean more business and a more active economy.

12. Q. Will a local sales tax hurt business?

A. No. The experience of cities in other states has proved that a sales tax will not hurt the retail sales business in a community. Rather, a clean, attractive, and well-run city attracts people, makes it grow, and makes business better.

13. Q. Why should a resident property owner favor this kind of tax?

A. Proper police and fire protection will protect the property owner's investment in his home, and high-quality streets, parks and other municipal facilities provide a suitable environment in which to live. The money to support these services must be derived from some source, which has, to this time, been primarily property taxes.

14. Q. Why should a city dweller who rents his residence favor the local sales tax?

A. For one matter, the person who rents enjoys the same services available to the property owner. For another, if it is necessary for the city to raise property taxes, the increased cost of this tax will be passed along in the form of higher rent charges.

15. Q. Is the local sales tax re-

Yoe, Del Valle In Bi-District Tilt

Saturday at 7:30 p.m. the Cameron Yoemen travel to Belton to meet the Del Valle Cardinals in the vie for bi-district.

Del Valle looks tough from here. A brutal line is the top asset to the lightning backs of the Cards. A solid defense which allowed only 68 points this season is another reason why the Del Valle squad is ranked seventh in the state.

Last week the Cards cruised over a helpless Copperas Cove squad by a score of 33-6. (If you Cameronites will recollect, the Cove-Yoe game was a shut out victory for the Yoemen.) This win clinched District 19-AA for the Cards and placed their season record at 10-1. A fearsome tally compared to the Yoe season of 5-4.

But Cameron's record does not tell the whole story. True, the Yoemen have had around 90 points scored on them this year, but — the first four games should be struck off. The last five games of this season were played by a different team - a team full of fight and hope - a team that allowed only 13 points in district play.

This team is the squad that tallied three shut-outs out of four district games. The Yoemen are experts now at capitalizing on the opposition's mistakes. So—tighten up, you Cards . . . the Yoemen are going to give you a battle!

Del Valle's squad has averaged two interceptions per game this season, showing an alert defense.

Tops in the offensive backfield is Wilbur Williams, 140-pound scatback with one year of varsity play. He is usually top rusher.

Running a close second to Williams is the Cardinal field general, sophomore John Lamb. He can fake and run smoothly, but his passing lacks something. Also, he has a hard time hanging on to the ball.

Bobby Moreland is the DV halfback with a passing arm. Next on the scoring list is John Hilgers, a powerful punter who also has a knack for extra point conversions.

A new star, and one to watch, is reserve HB Charles Anderson, a bruising runner.

$100 Gift Opens Teen Club Drive

The Three Arts Club of Cameron opened a fund drive for the Katacomb Teen Club with a gift of $100 last week. Other clubs and individuals are being contacted for gifts to re-model the now vacant center.

Applications are being taken for membership in the teen club and directors are considering plans for a dance and a carnival to add to decorating funds. The club will be for Cameron students 8th through 12th grades (13 through 19 years of age.)

The remodeling project will include a new floor, paint, furnishings, and recreation equipment.

REPORT SAYS STAPH CAUSE OF POISONING

A report from State Health Department this week verified preliminary estimates that food poisoning in Ada Henderson cafeteria three weeks ago was from staphylococcus.

Supt. D. R. Dodson released a copy of the report showing that Texas State Department of Health isolated "large numbers of coagulase positive staphylococcus aureus from the turkey carcass and scraps."

About 70 youngsters became sick about 2:30 the afternoon of October 24 following a meal which included turkey. Twenty were hospitalized and later released.

The report said that "coagulase positive staphylococci were also isolated from three of four foodhandlers and from the emesis of one patient."

Report showed little doubt about the cause, but said "somewhat less definite is the route of contamination."

Rodenbeck Holcombe, new county sanitation inspector, earlier agreed with doctors who said it was almost certainly a form of staphylococcus infection. He had estimated that 20 percent of the people at any given time carry staph on their hands, "and that it forms the toxin only under certain conditions."

The final report said: "The staphylococci isolated from the food handlers and the cooked turkey were both phage non-reactive and coagulase positive. The frozen turkey in the locker plant did not contain staphylococci. The handlers probably introduced the bacteria while de-boning the still very warm turkeys. Since the large amount of very warm meat was placed in bulk into a 42 degree refrigerator the center of the mass stayed warm for a considerable period of time, allowing for bacterial growth and liberation of toxin. The toxin was distributed evenly during the grinding and mixing."

The report concluded in saying that "cafeteria personnel were instructed in the proper handling of perishable food requiring refrigeration. Antibacterial soap scrubs and the use of rubber gloves with any hand or finger lesion were instituted."

Corrective recommendations included continued routine inspection by the local sanitary inspector, prohibiting any food handlers with obvious "suppurative" infection from preparing foods, and additional refrigeration for Ada Henderson lunchroom, allowing food to be placed under refrigeration in smaller containers.

Schools Announce Holiday Schedule

Cameron schools will be closed Thursday and Friday, November 23 and 24 for the Thanksgiving holidays. School officials said the regular school schedule would be followed Wednesday.

Yoe High Principal Alvis Fuquay said the Powder Puff football game originally scheduled for November 10 had been postponed until after the Thanksgiving holidays.

'STRAW VOTE' FAVORS IDEA OF 1% TABS

A straw vote" of about 70 people at Tuesday's Town Meeting on a City sales tax vote strongly favored a 1 percent sales tax after a two hour discussion.

Mayor Bassel Wilson opened the meeting with introduction of visiting city leaders and N. L. Caperton as master of ceremonies introduced speakers.

Basis of the discussion was a 19 question-and-answer segment by a panel of four persons reading answers provided by the City of Cameron. Material source was the Texas League of Municipalities.

Panelists were attorneys Ed Magre and Robert Ellett, businessleaders L. W. Stroup and Miss Mildred Thornton.

The questions and answers are published in their entirety in an adjacent story.

Questions from the audience quickly followed talks by Frank Tucker, Temple city attorney; and A. N. Ahlgreen, city clerk of Taylor, which has passed the 1 percent city sales tax 17 to 1.

TAYLOR'S VIEW

Ahlgreen emphasized that Taylor leadership developed what would be done with the additional revenue, a minimum of $50,000 annually there, he said. And ad valorem taxes were reduced 12 cents per hundred or were to be reduced if the vote carried.

Ahlgreen showed copies of a brochure, 'A Penny for Taylor" which was mailed to each potential voter and described other means to present the program to voters.

Using a $5.02 factor provided by Texas League of Municipalities, Ahlgreen estimated Cameron would derive $43,000 annually from a sales tax if Cameron got 43 percent of the estimated $10 million retail sales in Milam County.

Questions from the floor asked, in part, if the city had any specific needs outlined for use of a city sales tax, if approved.

Mayor Wilson named needs including salary increases in the City, another fire truck driver, additional fire equipment, an overhead water tower for industry, streets, saying "needs are great" in Cameron.

Councilman Starrett Hickman noted the City was going to need $60,000 as its share for a $180,000 paving program about to begin.

And Councilman John Hays told the group "he could almost promise that without a sales tax ad varolem taxes will have to go up again to meet many city needs."

'AD VALOREM OBSOLETE'

E. A. Perrin, Cameron civic leader, said he thinks a sales tax is the only means to raise additional taxes, that the ad valorem property tax is obsolete. He said he thought the group might approve the idea of a vote tonight. (Tuesday) with the idea the Council might consider the advisability of lowering city ad valorem taxes.

Albert Collins, another civic leader, saw the need of a city sales tax, but thought it was unwise to consider an ad valorem tax reduction.

Miss Thornton said she favors a sales tax to prevent further increases in ad valorem taxes.

Forrest Sapp, a Cameron civic leader, said he favored the city sales tax, but he knew others in Cameron who did not, and that they should be advised of city needs and how the tax works.

Answering a question about a specific list of city needs, Mayor Wilson said the meeting was called to discuss the pros and cons of the city sales tax. He said "if you want a vote, tell the Council. If you don't want a vote, tell the Council. We want to do what you want."

Anton Anderle, Cameron businessman, asked if some provision might be made if someone put in a business outside the city limits to avoid such obligations. The answer was the city limits can be expanded to take in new territory.

Estimates on an annual yield from a 1 cent sales tax run from $25,000 to $30,000, according to City officials, using the $5.02 factor of TML.

HOLIDAY DECOR IS PROGRAM FOR FLEUR DE LIS

Mrs. Ladis Marek, Jr. presented a program on holiday arrangements for the Fleur de lis Garden Club meeting Tuesday evening. She illustrated her program with color slides of outstanding flower arrangements from the Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.

The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Derwood Cobb with Mrs. Benny Massengale as co-hostess. Berry popovers and coffee were served to 20 members from a refreshment table centered with yellow pom-pom mums.

The flower show, scheduled for December 6 at the Methodist Fellowship Hall, was discussed during the business meeting.

Sales Tax–

Tucker explained that a majority vote of the Council could pass an ordinance calling for a city sales vote or, a petition from 20 percent of qualified voters (of last regular election) could be presented to the Council which must call an election within 60 days.

TEMPLE VOTING

Temple is voting on the question along with several more other Texas towns and cities December 5. Tucker said that 22 out of 23 towns as of Tuesday had approved the vote. Cities of Electra and Lufkin (since the meeting) have defeated the question.

The State Comptroller collects the tax and sends the city a check periodically from collections, just like the state 2 per cent sales tax. Exemptions include all political subdivisions and those items generally exempted from state sales tax, including automobiles.

State of Texas enforces a city sales tax. Local option is the only way a city sales tax can be voted. The law approved by the 60th Legislature limits the city sales tax to 1 percent.

Mayor Wilson said a delegation from Thorndale, which is scheduling a vote on a city sales tax there, was unable to attend.

Mayor Harold Luckey, of Rockdale, and city manager N. E. Alford and several other Rockdale leaders attended. Rosebud Mayor Lee Ray McAtee and Rosebud City manager Leo Wood and other Rosebud councilmen attended, following a Rosebud City Council meeting.

Some petitions were available for signatures in the rear of Methodist Hall. It was not known how many had signed at presstime.

Qualification for voting in a city sales tax election is to be a registered voter in the city where the tax would be collected. No property qualifications are included.

ELECTION VIEWED

The Herald has been advised the City Council is meeting 5:30 p.m. Wednesday to consider holding a City Sales Tax Election.

If the Cameron City Council approves having an election, a date of December 19, a Tuesday, will be considerer for such an election, according to one city official.

Mayor Bassel Wilson said that Rosebud is planning to call an election that date.

Instant Nonfat Dry Milk Now Has USDA Grade

Instant nonfat dry milk has finally made the grade. Proof is due soon when the U.S. Department of Agriculture places its grade shield right on the label.

This grade shield is assurance of high quality and wholesomeness, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, Texas A&M University. The stamp also means the product has been processed and packed under the careful scrutiny of graders.

"Dry milk that doesn't taste like milk will be a thing of the past," Mrs. Clyatt predicts.

To earn the "U.S. Extra Grade" shield, instant nonfat dry milk must have a sweet and pleasing flavor and a natural color. It also must live up to its name, Mrs. Clyatt points out. The result will be instant milk that is really instant, dissolving immediately when mixed with water.

"The 'instantizing' of dryfat milk, by which regular dry milk is made into the popular instant variety, is accomplished by a complex process which makes the dried powder into larger, more easily dissolved flakes," Mrs. Clyatt says.

But before the package can carry the grade, the label too must be approved. It can carry no conflicting or misleading statements.

"The entire program is designed to give complete assurance of wholesomeness and high quality to the consumer," Mrs. Clyatt emphasizes.

Grocers, Bankers Cite Newspaper Ads...

BANKERS

"No business man in any community should allow a newspaper published in his community to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its column. This does not mean he should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue, but your business — and name should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a community by looking at the paper. This is the best possible community advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the community. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to the community, but refuses to advertise, is not a valuable addition to any community. The life of a community depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising businessman."

—American Bankers Magazine

GROCERS

Orville W. Johnson, vice president of Independent Grocers Alliance, told a recent seminar of grocers in New York why advertising dollars are invested wisely in newspapers. He said:

1. Newspaper ads are inexpensive compared to other media.
2. Newspaper ads move merchandise faster and more continuously.
3. Almost everyone reads a newspaper.
4. Readers associate late prices with late news.
5. Late deadlines often give buyers an opportunity for better prices.
6. Newspapers give complete coverage.
7. Color newspaper ads offer the advantage of magazines, but with far greater coverage of the local market.
8. Newspaper reading is a habit.
9. Newspapers offer customers a printed, ready reference guide to economic shopping.
10. Newspapers do not require expensive plates or material."

Old buildings are a problem to the farmer planning enlarged or more modern facilities. A thorough cost and use study should be made as the basis for making a sound decision on old building use.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

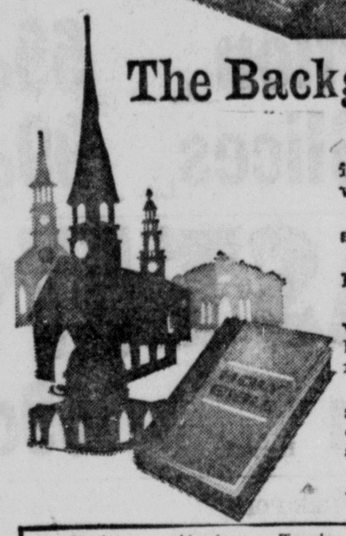
The Background of Integrity



There are millions of men in this world whose word is trusted—whose handshake is a binding contract—whose integrity others accept without question.

We've come a long way from the days when a strong man and a stout club were the social graces.

And this growth in man's capacity for integrity has paralleled his growth in religious expression.

Of course, the cynics will point to men and nations who still live by the code of the cave man. Must we believe that the clock of progress has turned . . . is running backward?

The sound, the sensible, the sincere still feel the strength of God's Bible in every handshake. With their children they are finding new spiritual opportunity and hope in the churches they cherish.

Are you with them? Are you, too, pushing forward the frontiers of faith?

Michigan Prof. Dies; Husband Of Helen Green

ANN ARBOR

Prof. Reynolds Denning, a University of Michigan professor of mineralogy internationally known for his studies of the optical properties of diamonds, has died here November 1 at the age of 51.

He was the husband of the former Helen Green of Cameron.

Prof. Denning specialized in studies of the effects of pressure on the optical properties of diamonds, crystal hardness, optical crystallography, radiation damage in diamonds, and diamond tool orientation. He built instruments to grind, polish, and determine the crystal or molecular orientation of stones.

In 1964 one of his former students identified a new mineral and named it denningite in honor of his teacher. The student was Joseph Mandarino, now director of the mineralogy section of the Royal Ontario Museum at Toronto.

Dean William Haber of U—M's College of Literature, Science and the Arts, described Prof. Denning as "modest, quiet, and sincere, a guide and inspiration to all who worked with him. His fame was established through his scientific publications and discoveries."

Prof. Denning was born Sept. 4, 1916 in Fitchburg, Mass., and moved to Rochester as a child. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at what is now Michigan Technological University in Houghton, and his doctorate at U—M.

He began his professional career in 1939 as a geologist with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He joined the Arkansas state geological survey in 1940 and taught at Stanford University in 1941-42. He spent the next three years working for Patino Mines in Llallagua, Bolivia.

He was an assistant professor at Michigan Tech from 1945 to 1952, when he joined the U—M faculty. He was on the faculty ever since, and frequently served as a diamond and diamond tool consultant for industry and government.

He was a member of more than a dozen scientific organizations including the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the mineralogical societies of America and Great Britain, the Royal Microscopical Society of Great Britain and Sigma Xi, the national scientific honorary society.

In addition to his wife, Prof. Denning is survived by a son, William Charles. His body has been cremated in Ann Arbor.

Rites Held For Mrs. Tomasek, 86

Mrs. Anna P. Tomasek of Rt. 1 Buckholts, died early Friday morning in a local hospital. She was 86 years old.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the chapel of Green's Funeral Home, Cameron, with the Rev. John Geiser officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

She is survived by four daughters Mrs. Henry Havlik and Mrs. Ben Vybiral of Cameron, Mrs. Angeline Balusek of Elmaton, Mrs. Rosie Svetlik of Bay City; five sons, Frank Tomasek of Cameron, Louis Tomasek of Blessing, Hubert Tomasek of USAF, Germany, Albert Tomasek and Emil Tomasek of Buckholts; 24 grandchildren and 31 great grandchildren.

Wish more of our friends and neighbors could have been with us Sunday for the sermon of our guest, Rabbi Clyde Sills, director of the Hillel Foundation of the University of Texas. Democracy Gains Control In World Of High Fashion

COLLEGE STATION

In the world of fashion where snobbery has long held court, democracy is quietly and effectively gaining control.

According to Miss Rheba Bovles, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University, fashion in its best sense is no longer limited to French rooms, with watered-down imitations trickling down to the lower-priced levels. Fashion is happening at every level, with the greatest strides being made in the middle brackets.

Since the birth of the American ready-to-wear industry, the traditional source of design has been in Paris. Recently, however, the tide has been turning, as the Paris couture keeps a discerning eye on what is happening here.

This has encouraged American designers to develop their own point of view. In dresses that sell for $25 to $50, in coats and suits for $100 and under, the feeling of originality and experimention frequently over-shadows the work by designers who sell suits for no less than $500.

Rogers Eagles Take District Title With 29-0 Victory Over Bartlett

Rogers' Eagles rolled over the Bartlett Bulldogs in winning stride Friday night to take the District 4-A championship with a 29-0 shut-out.

Eagles are now 8-1-1 for the season. Friday the Rogers squad meets Blooming Grove in a bi-district vie. The Bulldogs finished off season play with a 7-3 record.

Gang tackling was the order as Coach Donald Godwin's Eagles splattered the Bartlett offensive trys. Guard Ray Sulak, linebacker Charles Sulak, tackles Robert Woods and Curtis Schneider, and HB Mike Mayfield all combined to hold the Bulldogs to 2 first downs and 46 total offensive yds.

Mayfield compiled 151 yds in 29 carries. Close behind was FB Larry Griffith with 122 yds on 30 attempts. These two backs were the leaders of the complete Rogers offensive game.

Though the Eagles plastered the Bartlett squad, the Bulldogs showed a "never-say-die" quality.

Star of the Bulldogs was fullback Gentry Powell collecting 22 yds on 7 carries. Powell also led Bartlett defense from his linebacking position.

Other standouts for the Bulldog defense were LB Sam Davis, G Don Grigsby, E Glen Janke, and HB Spencer Hubbard.

On the second Eagle possession Rogers hit paydirt following an interception by Charles Sulak.

The TD drive covered 21 yds in 8 plays. Mayfield scored from one yard out with 1:09 left in the first quarter. A poor center snap aided in breaking up the Eagle PAT attempt.

Bartlett received the kick, piled up 9 yds in 3 plays, and took a chance on a 4th and 1 situation from their own 39. Ray Sulak and Mayfield shut the gaps on the play, holding the Bulldogs for no gain.

The 39 yds between the Eagles and paydirt was gobbled up in 6 plays, with final 10 coming on a pass from field general Henderson to end Ray Sulak. Mayfield split the uprights and the score was 13-0.

Rogers' next 6-pointer was set up by a Bulldog fumble on the Bartlett 27. Guard Dale Sitz recovered for the Eagles.

Three plays later, Mayfield shot over left tackle for 5 yds and a TD. His conversion kick sailed true and the score was 20-0. This score stood when half time caught the Eagles on Bartlett's 4 yd marker.

The third quarter was a stand-off, with both teams failing to score. The deepest Bulldog penetration came during this period, when an Eagle fumble was recovered by Bartlett's Autry Gray. The ball was pushed to the Rogers 33 before Eagle defenders repulsed the Bulldogs.

Here the Rogers squad began a 9-minute, 19-play march. But the Bulldogs forced Rogers to punt to the end zone.

On the first play from scrimmage the Bartlett backs bobbled the ball and Mayfield took possession on the Bulldogs' 16.

FB Grifith finished off the 5-play drive with a 1 yd smash over left tackle.

Another fumble on the snap nullified the PAT and the scoreboard showed Rogers 26-0.

The final 3 points for the Eagles were collected by Mayfield with a 24-yd field goal set up by Charles Sulak recovering a fumble.

A Bartlett TD bid was shut off when Henderson intercepted a Mayse pass with 35 seconds left in the game.

QUESTIONS—

gressive -- that is, will it cause a particular hardship for lower-income families?

A. A sales tax has more elements of equity than any other type of tax, and this is particularly true in Texas, since so many essential items are exempt from the sales tax.

16. Q. To whom will the local merchant report and pay the local sales tax?

A. Reports and remittances will be made to the State Comptroller in Austin.

17. Q. How is the Comptroller reimbursed for expenses incurred by his office in collecting the local sales tax?

A. The Comptroller is permitted by law to retain 2 percent of the total in local sales taxes collected.

18. Q. Who will enforce the municipal sales tax?

A. The State Comptroller is authorized by law to administer and enforce the local sales tax.

19. Q. What are the State Comptroller's specifications in respect to the city map required to be filed with the local sales tax election canvassing papers and other documents?

A. The Comptroller's office has advised the TML General Counsel that no specific requirements regarding maps have yet been devised. It is, however, understood that the map to be filed is neither to be exceptionally large nor small, and that it clearly indicate all streets and the corporate boundaries of the city. The Comptroller will use these maps to determine whether merchants in certain "fringe" areas are located within or without the corporate limits of cities levying a local sales tax.

Milano Falls To Normangee 47-14

Normangee shattered a 14-14 halftime tie with a brilliant second quarter rally to beat the Milano Eagles in a 6-man District 12-B game.

This loss dropped the Eagle season to a 7-3 rating and finished off Milano's '67 gridster season.

The first Milano TD came on a 3 yd scoring burst by Robert Silva. Grover Morgan booted the PAT.

The second quarter saw Morris Popham scoot 42 yds around end for 6 more. Morgan split the uprights to place the halftime score at 14-14.

Normangee dominated the second half completely. Danny Grimes just couldn't be stopped as he piled up 24 points with TD runs of 1, 2, 3, and 9 yds.

The remaining Normangee scores went to David Bryan, who turned a 23 yd pass into a TD, and Melvin Batson, who scampered 70 yds with a long pass.

Millionaire Grid Star Calls UT Defense Signals

AUSTIN

With Corby Robertson calling the defensive signals, it's like having a coach on the field.

So says Tom Ellis, one of the defensive coaches for the Texas Longhorns who share the Southwest conference lead with Texas A&M following a 24-0 win over Baylor.

"Corby has such a good football mind he can readily tell what the offense is doing," Ellis says of the junior linebacker.

Robertson, a consensus Southwest conference defensive end as a sophomore last year, was moved to linebacker this fall after Capt. Joel Brame was injured in the last half of the Oklahoma game, and he's been the UT defensive leader ever since.

When Brame hurt an ankle and had to come out of the OU game, Soph Mack McKinney went in at defensive end, and Robertson moved into Brame's strongside linebacker slot.

All the Houston Lamar grad did was make three great stops against the Sooners to help preserve a 9-7 Texas win. That is the only loss on the OU record this fall.

Mike Campbell is in charge of the Longhorn defense. But his job is much easier this year with Robertson in command...

"He's got a good football mind," Campbell says of the future millionaire who is the grandson of the late Houston oilman, H. R. Cullen. "He has a good knowledge of what the other team is trying to hurt us with."

TP&L Announces New Power Plant

Texas Power & Light Company and two other investor-owned electric companies today announced plans to construct a power plant capable of producing more than one million kilowatts of electricity near Fairfield in Freestone County. Plans are contingent on approval of the various regulatory agencies involved.

The plant will be located on a 5,000-acre traft of land about 8 miles northeast of Fairfield, T. L. Austin, Jr., TP&L president, said. It will have an estimated maximum capability of 1,150,000 kilowatts, and will be a joint venture by TP&L, Dallas Power & Light Company and Texas Electric Service Company of Fort Worth.

TP&L how has under construction a 565,000-kilowatt generating plant on Tradinghouse Creek near Waco and recently announced the addition of a third generating unit at its Valley Steam Electric Station in North Texas. The Valley unit will have an estimated maximum capability of 375,000 kilowatts.

Austin said that the anticipated growth and power requirements in the service areas of the three companies brought about the decision to construct the new Freestone County plant. Expected economies from the project, he said, will help offset the rapidly rising costs of providing service to the Company's customers.

The power plant will consist of two outdoor-type generating units and will feature the most up-to-date design in large steam electric generating equipment. The new units will use 1,000 degree steam at 3,500 pounds of pressure per square inch. Electricity generated by the new plant will be fed into a 345,000 volt system for use throughout the service areas of the three companies.

Included in the construction plans is a dam which will form a 2,500-acre lake, for cooling water purposes, containing some 15 billion gallons of water when filled. Construction of the new facility will begin in late 1968. The dam is expected to be completed in 1969 and one of the generating units will be placed in service by late 1971. The second generating unit is scheduled for completion in late 1972.

The new plant will utilize the area's lignite deposits for fuel to fire the boilers. As a result, Austin said, lignite mining operations in the area will be started in late 1970, about one year prior to the completion of the first generating unit. He said that by early 1973 some 100 to 150 persons will be employed full-time at the new power plant and mining operation. In addition, Austin estimated that about 450 workers will be employed at the peak of the plant's construction.

RosebudPanthers Add Lorena To District Victories

Rosebud Black Panthers sneaked over the Lorena Leopards, adding to their District 22-A wins Friday night. This week the Panthers meet Elkhart for a bi-district bout in Marlin.

The usually outstanding Alfred Knox took a back seat as Larry Spivey became the Panther offensive star. He accounted for one of the Rosebud TDs and set up the other with a fumble recovery.

Rosebud opened scoring in the first quarter on a muddy field with a 60 yd cruise to a TD. Spivey finished off the drive with a 1 yd scoring blast. Knox booted the PAT.

Late in the second quarter, Spivey pounced on a Lorena fumble on the Leopard 26 to put the Panthers in scoring position.

FB Larry Koslosky got the final 13 yds up the middle for the final Rosebud TD. Knox's conversion kick was good.

Lorena hit the scoreboard in the 4th quarter when Marvin Lankford found his right sideline and sprinted 54 yds to paydirt. A try for 2 points failed when the Leopards hit the solid Panther goal line defense.

Rosebud gave a scoring threat in the final minutes as they crashed to the Lorena 12 yd marker before being halted.

Buckholts Badgers Falls To Oglesby In 20-14 District Tilt

Tommy Leos led the Oglesby six 20-14 over the Buckholts Badgers in a District 10-B game Friday.

Buckholts' season record dropped to 3-6. The Badgers play Jarrell Friday night in Buckholts.

The game was unusual in its lack of penalties. Also, every pass thrown hit its target perfectly.

Leos opened scoring for the night with a 20 yd aerial reception from QB Rocky Dunlap. The PAT missed and Oglesby led 6-0.

A scoreless second period passed but in the 3rd quarter the lead was upped to 13-0 as Leos again hit the end zone, this time on a 5 yd sprint. The PAT was good.

The Badgers quickly retaliated with a 51 yd march to paydirt, with HB Kenneth Marek taking the final 5 yds on a burst through the middle. An Alan Barkemeyer pass to Marek put the score at 13-7.

Ronnie Rubac grabbed the ball in the Oglesby backfield and shot 60 yds for a TD. Norman Haisler sprinted into the end zone on the PAT and Buckholts led 14-13.

But Leos added another TD to Oglesby's credit, this time with a 5 yd scoring scamper in the final quarter. Ronnie Sullins' PAT conversion finished scoring for the night at 20-14.

Rockdale Tigers Take Belton 27-8 In 'Mud Bowl'

The Rockdale Tigers, capitalizing on fumbles while retaining a tight grip on the ball, blasted the Belton Big Red to clinch a perfect homecoming.

You could have called this the "Mud Bowl" since four inches of rain had saturated the field before the game. This muddiness accounted for the multiple fumbles on Belton's part.

Back in the top ground gainer spot for the Tigers is H. Earl Marion, the 190-pound Rockdale fullback. Marion splashed through the mud for 104 yards on 26 attempts.

Big Red Fullback Tommy Lee had tallied only 46 yds on 15 carries at the end of the third quarter. But a second string Rockdale defense during the 4th quarter allowed Lee to finish the game with a 93 yd total on 23 trips.

Top Tiger defenders Mike Speer and Richard Kubiak held of all offensive plays by Belton while the number one Belton defender was Tommy Lee.

This gives Rockdale an 8-1 season record while Big Red's tally dropped to 4-5.

Number one contributors to Belton's defense were Steve Jones, Scotty Killingsworth, Richard Watson, Marion Fuller, and David Constance.

This week the Rockdale Tigers travel to Lockhart to finish district play.

Fall Leaf Colors Not Due To Frost

By J. D. Moore

What causes leaves to change color in the Fall, resulting in the gorgeous array of beauty across the countryside?

Many people suppose that frost is responsible for the color change of leaves. However, this is not so, says Tony Jensen, forester with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service. Many leaves begin to turn before the first frost. All during the spring and summer the leaves have served as factories, where foods necessary for the trees' growth have been manufactured.

This food-making takes place in countless tiny cells of the leaf and is carried on by small green bodies which give the leaf its color. These chlorophyll bodies, as they are called, make food for the tree by combining carbon taken from the air with hydrogen, oxygen and various minerals supplied in the water the roots gather. In the fall when cool weather causes the slowing down of the vital processes, the work of the leaves comes to an end.

Green chlorophyll is broken up into the various substances of which it is composed, and whatever food is on hand is sent to the body of the tree to be stored for use in the spring. All that remains in the cell cavities of the leaf is a watery substance in which a few oil globules and crystals and a small number of yellow, strongly refractive bodies can be seen. These give the leaves the yellow coloring so familiar in the autumnal foliage.

It often happens that there is more sugar in the leaf than can be readily transferred back to the tree. When this is the case, the chemical combination with other substances produces many color shades of red. Trees noted for red coloration include dogwood, red maple and sumac.

Tree leaf pigments are found elsewhere in nature. The same kind of chemicals produce the bright yellows, blues, and reds of flowers.

November 1 cotton prospects indicate 1967 crop of 7,969,000 bales, smallest since 1921 down 125,000 bales from a month earlier, according to Crop Reporting board.

Insect damage in California, and continued below normal temperatures, in northern areas of central cotton states reduced prospects and more than offset favorable harvest weather in other states.

Indicated crop compares with 9,575,000 bales last year and 14,973,000 bales in 1965. The 1961-65 average is 14,935,000 bales.

This report does not reflect effects of below-freezing temperatures after Nov. 1 in northern areas of central cotton states.

Indicated yield per acre for U.S. at 448 pounds is below average for second successive year, after several years of marked uptrend in yield. The 1966 yield was 460 pounds and average is 491 pounds.

Yields were hardest hit in North Carolina, Alabama, Missouri and Arkansas, and below average in most states.

Bureau of Census reports 3,289,153 bales ginned to Nov. 1 and 5,007,297 to same date in 1966. Estimate of 7,969,000 bales in terms of 500 pounds gross weight indicates ginnings for 1967 season of 7,949,000 running bales and cotton seed production of 3,277,000 tons, based on average bale weight and seed-lint ratios.

Lone Star Gas Co. Reports Income Up

Directors of Lone Star Gas Company announced last week in Dallas a net income of $21,271,071 for the 12-month period ending September 30, up from $19,018,049 for the same period in 1966.

Twelve-month common stock earnings correspondingly rose from $1.30 per share in 1966 to $1.45 in 1967. Directors for the Dallas-based utility and its subsidiaries also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $0.28 per share of common stock payable on December 11, 1967, to shareholders of record on November 24, 1967.

Operating expenses for the first nine months of 1967 increased, partly due to added company gas purchases, an increase in royalties paid on gas and natural gas liquids, and a jump in the amount of interest charged to construction.

Standby Generator On Farm Insures Against Power Failure

COLLEGE STATION

Electric power failures don't often happen, and they usually don't last long. But any interrupted service may mean inconvenience and perhaps a considerable loss of money.

A standby generator on the farm or ranch makes sure important equipment will keep running despite any power failure, points out W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University. Both engine-drive and tractor-drive models are available and either type can be permanently installed or portable, he advises. Engine-drive generators are available with manual or automatic starting.

Tractor-driven units cost about half as much for the same capacity as the engine-drive, Allen explains. Since a tractor is more frequently used, it will probably be easier to start.

If a tractor isn't available, the manual start engine-driven generator will be the least expensive alternative. Also, these can usually be put into operation more quickly than tractor driven units, he says.

Here is additional information from the engineer on other power failure equipment and its operation:

Automatic engine-driven generators, in which the unit starts automatically if power fails, are the most expensive. They are used only if the service must not be interrupted for any length of time. The unit must be large enough to start and operate all electrical equipment in use at the time of the failure.

An automatic sequence starting system will provide full-load service. However, the part-load system is entirely practical for most farms or ranches which only need some of the electrical equipment operating at one time. Equipment must be turned on after the generator is operating, and the load is limited to generator capacity.

Restarting an electric motor requires at least three times as much current as running it. With a part-load system, it is necessary to start the largest motor first and let it come to speed before connecting other equipment. To figure the generator capacity you will need for an emergency, add up the wattages of all the lights, appliances and motors -- including starting wattage

A segment of American youth seeks freedom without responsibility. Another segment of Russian youth seeks Western success symbols and pasttimes.

The while, a neo-Nazi Party is singing "Deutschland, Deutschland Uber Alles" in West Germany even while Willie Braun's German Socialist Party shares power.

If Communism is far left, why are their youth espousing Mod clothes, Beatle music and new cars, which cost money, dirty capitalist money? If the U.S. is capitalistic and to the far right by comparison, why are so many denying values here for freedom by degrees which, to suit, may have to include four-letter words?

We don't understand all we read and much of what we see. The follies of this young generation, blaming the older generation for the bomb, would appear to condition the return of a powerful Western German military, if a teenage Chinese Red Guard doesn't get there first. As it were, it may arise in the midst of all this new Soviet and American "freedom."

The gift received by the present generation 25 years ago was World War II, succeeding the grand folly of the 1920's and economic disaster of the 1930's. And these followed World War I, the gift of the Crown Heads of Europe.

It is little wonder Right and Left are aimed at one another. It is little wonder the Young Generation has little sense of certainty, perhaps, but it is of little use to blame it on the bomb.

The Bomb may be arbitrated into ineffectiveness. The while, the "Goose Step" may return to international prominence as the so-called Left and Right in World Powers are indecisive in working with the "free generation" at hand.

What Others Say . . .

History Relived . . .

Washington will have a new theatre for live plays starting next Jan. 30. Ford's theatre, which went out of business the night Abraham Lincoln was shot there 102 years ago, is going to open its box office again. The national park service, which has operated the place as a museum, is negotiating with the Ford's theatre society, a new non-profit organization which would be responsible for staging plays that were current in Lincoln's time, as well as new works about Lincoln and contemporary American life.

The historic theatre now is in the final phase of restoration to much the way it looked the night of April 14, 1865, when John Wilkes Booth entered box 7 and shot the President. The restoration is based on photographs by two famed Civil War era photographers Matthew Brady and Alexander Gardener which were made in connection with the investigation of the assassination.

A downstairs museum of Lincoln memorabilia is planned in addition to the plays.

Thus playgoers in Ford's theatre may once again hear such lines as "Wal, darn me, if you ain't the consarndest old shoat I ever did see," and "Wal, I guess I know enough to turn you inside out, you sockdologizing old mantrap!" Both are from "Our American Cousin," the second rate English play Lincoln was watching.

Such plays may not presage the beginning of a movement of the theatre from Broadway to Washington, as Secretary of the Interior Udall has hopefully forecast. But certainly they will serve a commendable and historic purpose as a living memorial to Lincoln that will help modern generations of Americans relive some of the momentous events of the past.

Reactions Vary In Capitol

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Gov. John Connally did what very few people in your capitol city expected him to do when he announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election in 1968.

About the only person who really felt that he would not run, and said so, was Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, an already - announced candidate for Governor.

Connally's declaration brought forth many reactions.

Republicans felt it would add impetus to their 1968 campaign plans —which seem to include former attorney general Will Wilson in the governor's race.

Liberals listened for word from Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Houston lawyer Don Yarborough and other potential gubernatorial candidates.

Conservatives began a sudden guessing game, with former attorney general Waggoner Carr apparently high on their potential list. But not all have given up on Connally. They point out that the filing deadline is not until February 15.

Anyway, 1968 promises to be one of those years when cowboys and Indians both may bite the dust. Things are pointing in that direction.

SCHOOL FUND FATTENED

State permanent school fund gained $4,100,000 as a result of the last oil, gas and sulphur lease sale of 1967.

Bidding averaged $45.27 an acre on 54,950 acres of oil and gas lands. Sulphur leases averaged $547.25 an acre on 3,005 acres.

Nueces County Gulf of Mexico oil-gas lease totalling 1,440 acres brought the top bid of $$129,787 from Cities Service Oil Company. Top sulphur lease bid was $1,056,-323 by W. C. Tillett for 555 acres in Culberson County near Van Horn.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler reported that the permanent school fund now totals $742,338,369.

WAR ON POVERTY PROJECTS

Nearly $210 million in federal anti-poverty funds have poured into Texas the past two years.

Annual report by the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity shows $98,900,000 authorized for spending on war on poverty projects during the fiscal year which ended August 31.

Money found its way into the largest and smallest counties and the richest and poorest. More than a third of the 1967 allocation -- $34,500,000 -- went to five Texas counties -- Harris, Bexar, Dallas, El Paso and Webb.

Nearly $45 million of the statewide 1967 total was for Community Action Programs including Operation Head Start for pre-school children, health programs, neighborhood centers, concentrated employment programs to recruit, train and place hard-core unemployed, legal aid and adult services.

Neighborhood Youth Corps activities, reaching some 18,463 students were allocated $20,118,710 for the year. Job Corps training at Gary Center in San Marcos, the McKinney women's unit, and the New Waverly rural center for men received another $17,340,026.

Assistance to migrants and seasonal farm workers totaled more than $6,300,000; college work study allocations, $3,900,000; co-op loans to farm families, $1,700,000; the work experience program, $2,000,-000-plus; and Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA), $1,200,000.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Governor Connally announced appointments of 157th District Judge Phil Peden as Associate Justice of First Court of Civil Appeals in Houston, Harris County Court of Domestic Relations No. 4 Judge Arthur Lesher to 157th District Court and Harris County Court at Law No. 1 Judge Madison Rayburn to 30th District Court (Civil) of Harris County.

House Speaker Ben Barnes appointed to the Parks Study Committee Reps. Gene Hendryx of Alpine; J. M. Simpson of Amarillo; Lindon Williams of Galena Park; Griffith Moore of Dallas; D. C. Howard of Uvalde; James L. Lovell of Crockett; and Dave Allred of Wichita Falls.

Robert E. Schneider Jr. of George West was appointed to represent the State Bar Association on advisory committee for school law recodification.

Glenn Jarvis, McAllen, succeeds presidential aide Larry Temple as chairman of state junior bar's governing board of directors.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer will become University of Texas professor of engineering practice on retirement next year.

INSURANCE PROBE ON BANKS

State Insurance Board reports a statewide investigation has disclosed credit insurance irregularities in 24 Texas banks.

Ten more investigation reports are outstanding.

Board announced investigations at a public hearing on credit insurance rates and coverages. Board Chairman Wm. Hunter McLean said that investigation of credit insurance practices may be expanded into other lending fields.

Texans paid nearly $50 million in premiums last year for credit life and credit health and accident insurance -- coverage which provides for settlement of debts in event a borrower dies or is disabled.

Texas Bankers Association spokesman reminded that there are 1,150 banks in the state, many of which rely on insurance companies for advice on insurance matters. He pledged prompt correction of any violations.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court has held that paving assessments must be based on official city-prepared estimates of costs before improvements are made. Decision reversed lower courts which upheld assessments against a Houston woman's property.

High court agreed with lower courts that an employee of an El Paso County commissioner who worked 18 months without pay was entitled to $4,000 in damages and $2,500 in attorneys' fees.

Third Court of Civil Appeals backed the district court in Burnett County in its decision that a suit to block an election on incorporation of the town of Granite Shoals was improperly brought by private citizens.

GUARD AID GRANTED

Cost of National Guard aid to civil authorities in the Hurricane Beulah disaster was ordered paid by Governor Connally.

Governor granted his entire deficiency appropriation of $200,000, plus $6,582 from his office's appropriations, for payment sof disaster claims.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Splitting Heirs

The contesting of a will is one of the more exciting forms of courtroom melodrama. To the spectator, and to the newspaper reader, it may offer scandal, emotion, and suspense.

But to those who are involved in a will contest, the experience may be both grim and sorrowful. All too often, a court battle over the estate of a deceased has split once-devoted families into bitter enemies.

The reason is that the issues in such a battle ("undue influence"? "mental incompetence"?) are usually issues that touch the very vitals of family life.

Did Father love one daughter more than the other? Did a son pamper him in his old age out of kindness, or out of a secret mercenary motive? Was his brother just a friendly adviser, or a financial master?

Obviously a will contest is worth preventing, if only to avoid washing the family's dirty lenen in court.

The best way is to take certain precautions at the time the will is written—precautions which a skilled lawyer can tailor to fit the individual situation.

For example, it may be wise to avoid making unusual, "unnatural" bequests. Thus, a will that left more to a man's stepchildren than to his own children not only led to a court fight but also helped convince a jury that the man was incompetent when he made the will.

Another precaution may be to include explanations along with the terms of the will. Suppose a man wants to favor a daughter over a son. He may defuse the son's resentment by explaining that, while he loves them both alike, he fears that the daughter will need more financial help.

Still another possible precaution, when there might be a question of the person's mental competence, is to have evidence prepard—just in case Medical examinations, extra witnesses, perhaps even tape recordings or movies may, by showing soundness of mind, some day discourage a will contest.

One fact cannot be escaped: the maker of the will won't be around when the will comes up for probate. Nevertheless, his care and foresight may still be the means of preserving harmony among his heirs.

To them, this can be the most important, and kindest, bequest of all.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

Why don't you and me go into the public opinion poll business?

I got this idea last night while I was looking over a copy of the Dallas Morning News which my dog dragged into the yard yesterday afternoon and left there untorn, didn't like the taste of it, I guess, although I don't know why, you ought to see some of the bones he chews on.

At any rate, over on an inside page there was the result of the latest Gallup Poll. After surveying people clear across the nation, the Poll discovered that the "most urgent problem facing the average man and his family today is money." Of all family problems, it found, "the high cost of living overshadows all other worries of the American people today."

This is the reason you and me ought to start our own public opinion poll. I could have discovered the same results without interviewing a single person or using even a 5-cent stamp, and if you can sell the poll to other newspapers, everything we take in will be net profit, and I can sure use my part to help meet the high cost of living. You bought any tractor parts lately? Been to the hospital? Replaced a picture tube? Fed a growing boy? Bought any dog food?

There are some things a man just knows automatically, and one of them is that regardless of how much he earns, his family is always one jump ahead in needing a little more. Every time he gets into a new income bracket, he discovers his family has been there for months already.

Another thing about this poll we ought to start is that we could use it over and over. Not only is it true that the average consumer is in an economic squeeze today, he was in one yesterday, last year, ten years ago, and most likely will be in one ten years from now. By the time you own one car, your family needs two, and when you swing that, color television comes in and the family next door has a speedboat.

Let's get this poll going. My tractor is missing out and my TV set is flickering.

Yours faithfully,

J.A.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Along the 88,633 miles of U.S. coastline, population growth and land development are killing off estuaries that took nature millions of years to provide.

Texas' coast totals some 600 miles. But counting the back bays the area is about doubled. This is the portion of the coastline where the rivers meet the sea, create a breeding ground for marine life, and furnish feed for fish farther out in the ocean.

All this now is in danger. People who have been around for some time can look back on clean coastlines, where waterfowl flourished and where fishing was good. It was so because this was the nursery grounds.

Conditions are changing too fast today for comfort.

On the Gulf Coast, the five bordering states, and this includes Texas, once had 14 million acres of estuaries and marshlands. A recent survey shows that more than a half-million acres no longer remain biologically productive for our wildlife.

In each of the 26 states which have estuarine areas, it is much the same story: Urban sprawl, industrialization and pollution are destroying the coastlines.

Where, then, will our future supply of fish come from? Trout, shrimp, red fish and other species that spawn and make their homes in our coastal waters, may disappear much quicker than sports fishermen think.

According to Richard H. Stroud, executive vice president of the Sports Fishing Institute, a price tag can be put on this destruction. He cites experiments which resulted in "annual harvest of shell fish that were worth up to $76,850 per acre in the market place."

"Applying economics to the Galveston-Trinity East Bay of Texas (one of the state's most important estuarine areas), Stroud estimates the loss of biological productivity there could mean a loss of more than $19 million annually in benefits generated by sports fishing for the present harvest of 116 million pounds of fish and shellfish," says the Federztion report.

"Thus," Stroud says, "the total value derived from utilization of the biological products that are directly dependent on this critical Bay-estuary complex is about $44,822,000."

There was no suggestion of the economic loss annually from recreational use of the areas. Certainly if fish are destroyed, and the water becomes more polluted than it is today, there will be little recreational value left in that area.

Today it is one of the chief play areas of the United States, summer and winter.

There is no denying that today there is heavy economic benefits from shell dredging and even urbanization of this area. However, there is the constant question of whether we are killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

There are substitutes for construction material. But there can never be a substitute for loss of our water resources.

In our own state planning it might be well to take another look at potential dangers, not only along our Texas coast, but also in modification of stream flow.

USDA RECOMMENDS

Texas growers of early and late spring potatoes will plant slightly less acreage in 1968 than in 1967 if suggested guidelines of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture are followed. The Department suggests that 2 percent fewer acres of early spring and 4 percent of late spring potatoes be planted.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank all my friends, neighbors and especially my doctors and the staff of St. Edward Hospital for their kindness to me while I was in the hospital.

Mrs. Dora Smith
